

Dear {{firstname}},

Happy International Development Week! CPAR is proud of our 37 year history in the world of International Development. We would like to take this opportunity to thank our volunteers, donors, and dedicated staff who make our work possible. We have quite a few exciting events planned to celebrate this week, so read on to find out more!

What's inside:

- A Reading List for Global Citizens
- Ethiopian Insight Breakfast with Kathrina, Sandra and Mastewal
- The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind - Netflix Viewing Party

A Reading List for Global Citizens

BOOK CLUB FOR GLOBAL CITIZENS

READ • SHARE • TAKE ACTION

The Manitoba Council for International Cooperation has put together a Reading List for Global Citizens in honour of International Development Week, and we here at CPAR couldn't resist checking out a few of their recommendations! Our staff will be showing up on our social media to tell you more about the books they loved, and you can check out the full reading lists here:

SIGN UP NOW!

In honour of the International Day of Women and Girls in Science, CPAR's Executive Director is hosting a conversation with CPAR-Ethiopia's Senior Project Officer and Senior Sexual Reproductive Health and Gender Based Violence Officer on the challenges women and girls face in science and medical fields in Ethiopia. Bring your breakfast or your coffee and join us this Thursday at 9am Eastern Time to join the conversation! Sandra and Mastewal both have real-life experience to share and are eager to discuss how CPAR can work to encourage women and girls involvement in scientific professions such as healthcare.

THE BOY WHO HARNESSED THE WIND

FEBRUARY 12 • STARTS AT 3PM

The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind - Netflix Viewing Party

Help us close out International Development Week with pomp by attending CPAR's first ever movie party! Join us in watching The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind, a Sundance award-winning, heartwarming true-story about a boy-inventor who saved his village during the 2002 famine in Malawi. The movie will be accompanied by commentary from our Executive Director, our Malawi Country Manager and our Malawi Project Coordinator. Did you know that CPAR was there, working in Malawi in 2002 to alleviate the effects of the same famine portrayed in the movie? Find out more about CPAR's history by joining us Friday! And if you can't join us this Friday (we know the timing might not work for all), we highly recommend adding this movie to your list!

*Please note that in order to participate in the movie party, you will need access to a Netflix account.
